2012 FCC Telecommunications Reform

- Recent regulatory orders by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) will negatively impact rural telecommunications companies and include a rate increase for our customers as early as July 1st, 2012. The monthly rate increase will be fifty cents ($0.50) for residential and single line business services, and one dollar ($1.00) for multi-line business services and is designated by the FCC as an Access Recovery Charge.
- In addition to the Access Recovery Charge, the FCC has issued the Lifeline Modernization Order. Effective July 1st, Lincoln Telephone and most all other Montana telecommunication companies will withdraw from the State program and will only participate in the Federal Lifeline Assistance Program. The program offers a telephone discount of $9.25 to qualified low-income consumers on their residential communication services. Please review the enclosed lifeline brochure to see if you qualify and call our office with any questions or assistance.
